As the cutting edge tech leader of Crypto.A.M. and a key influencer, both inside and outside the crypto space, Paul is professionally forming your vector for success in the world. When we meet TCLs and inquire about their vision for the future, they often bring up the concept of blockchain being a “platform”, a “pipeline” or “network” to other things. They often half-unconsciously bring up the idea of “molotov cocktail” for a moment. A solid desire for taking control of your own assets. Steele has a reputation for being the primary speaker at blockchain and crypto events. Their vision is to enable the creation of an ecosystem that is both secure and scalable.
