Ten or twenty years from now, the current structure will not be as it is today.

"Ten or twenty years from now, the current structure will not be as it is today. The way we get information, the way we do business, the way we interact with others will have changed. The current structure will no longer be as it is today."

"In ten or twenty years from now, the current structure will not be as it is today. The way we get information, the way we do business, the way we interact with others will have changed. The current structure will no longer be as it is today."